And Erection of Farnsworth Memorial Will Proceed Apace

Operations have been resumed in the construction of the Farnsworth Memorial Building and office building which is being built between Spring and Elm streets according to the will of the late Lucy Farnsworth.

Herman Crowell, chief construction engineer for the building, states that the office and store building will be completed by Fall and that they now have 90 percent of the materials on hand for the work. The building, which will be 105 feet on Main street and 55 feet in depth, will house stores on the ground floor and offices above. Mr. Crowell will be assisted by John Muller of Arlington, Mass., in the construction work.

Howe Glover's Luck

Gets Back Motor Car Stolen In January, and See What Happened

Howe Glover has recovered a two door 1940 Chevrolet sedan stolen from him last January. Notified by the insurance company that the car had been recovered in Boston last Friday, he went there to drive it home.

More than a little down at the heels as to what condition it might be in after being in the thief's hands for more than two months, he was pleasantly surprised to find what was once a green car with a nice new black paint job on it. In addition, the dealer in Newburyport to whom the thief had sold it, had put in new window glass and seat covers throughout, and apparently had done some work on the motor.

The car's serial number had been changed but the motor number, through which it was identified, had not been altered.

The ancient Phoenicians were a Semitic people.

No Food Five Days

George A. Nash Rescued From Home In A Precarious Condition

George A. Nash, 70, former galley worker and cook aboard the bay steamers for the greater part of his life, is in Knox Hospital suffering from malnutrition and exposure from having been ill in bed for at least five days without heat or food in his house on Granite street.

He had not been seen by neighbors for five days. Fearing that he was ill, they called Alan Bird who is administrator of the Nash estate. He in turn called Fire Chief Van E. Russell and Police Chief George Lillenthal, last Monday night.

Neighbors could see Nash lying on a couch from outside but could not enter the house to give him aid. Lillenthal broke a window latch with an axe and entered with Russell.

A Teacher Honored

G. Carl Cassens Guest At Largely Attended Supper Meeting Last Night

G. Carl Cassens, who commenced teaching the Ingraham Bible Class of the First Baptist Church, Jan. 19, was honor guest at a supper meeting held in the church parlors and vestry, last night. Deacon Cassens, well-known Central Maine Power Company employe and an officer of the Gideons in Maine, succeeded the late Frank H. Ingraham, who taught the class about 35 years.

About 80 attended the happy gathering, and included members of the Kallioch class, the Opportunity class, the McDonald class, the Miller class and the Pilgrim class, together with relatives and friends, church school officers and teachers and other workers in the Church.

The affair was arranged by a committee consisting of John L. Stahl, Raphael S. Sherman and Bert S. Gregory. Mr. Stahl was assisted by Mrs. Ethel Colburn as chief housekeeper. Mrs. Helen McKinney, Mrs. Sissie Morey, Mrs. Marion Lindsey and Mrs. Bessie Bornheimer completing the kitchen staff. The main part of the supper was Mr. Stahl's famous meat and vegetable porridge which he calls "Bubblin' Squeak."

Waitresses serving the delicious meal were Miss Charlotte Cook, Misses Elvira and Nina Johnson, Geraldine Billings, Barbara Clark, Jean Merrill, Albert A. Sprague, Janice Stanley, Alice Kinney and Joyce Wotton.

AIRED THEIR TRAFFIC VIEWS

A Large Meeting Which Revealed "Many Men Of Many Minds"

The Chamber of Commerce "gripe session" at the Community Building Friday night at least furnished the opportunity for a few citizens to let off steam which had been built to the danger point over traffic enforcement in the city. One store owner must have had low boiler pressure when he left as he spoke seven times in the course of the meeting and was finally willing to agree to some extent, with others who thought a little differently.

However, the affair showed that at least there is a growing interest in what does happen to the city and its business, and that a goodly part of the merchants and professional people were willing to gather and talk over possible remedies.

The meeting was opened by President Fred C. Gattcombe of the Chamber of Commerce who threw the session open to anyone who wished to speak on the subject at hand.

The majority who spoke expressed opinions that the present strict enforcement of one-hour parking was driving business which would ordinarily come to Rockland, into adjoining communities. Chester Clark told of seeing Rockland people trading in Camden, Waldoboro and Thomaston in preference to shopping in their own city.

Councilman Osmond A. Gilbert stated that the Camden merchants thought the strict one-hour enforcement an excellent thing as it was increasing their business. Gattcombe said that a Camden merchant's son asked him not to straighten out the situation here as it was helping business in Camden.

Clarence Joy, insurance broker, stated that the majority of out of town people were afraid of what they termed the "vicious attitude" of Rockland police. Gattcombe cited an instance where his beach wagon was tagged in the Rockland Hotel bus stop while he was registering three officials of General Seafords. At the same time, he said, a taxi parked in the center of the bus stop remained there, forcing a railroad bus to park in the middle of the street. The bus driver, according to him got a bawling out in the hotel lobby and the taxi driver escaped unscathed.

Harry Gerrish cited the courtesy of police officers in other cities—asking for a "break" from local officers on the parking regulations. He stated that his wife parked at 4.15 p. m. and was tagged at 5.30 in front of his store and that the officers only reply to his pleas for a break was the information that he would have to go to the station.

On the other side, Lincoln McRae stated that from his observation that local persons were doing most of the blocking of parking facilities on Main street and complained the police force on its enforcement of the ordinance and especially the officer who is assigned to checking the one-hour parking and he carried out his orders exactly.

Lucien K. Green suggested the establishment of taxicab stands on the side streets and two-hour parking on all side streets in the business district. Stating that Rockland needs out of town customers.

THE BLACK CAT

By The Roving Reporter

To "The Black Cat"—
Maybe the words of this old song are sticking in Mr. Broadbent's "crop":
"Whistle, daughter, whistle,
And you shall have a cow—
"I can't whistle, mother,
For I don't know how."
"Whistle, daughter, whistle,
And you shall have a sheep—
"I can't whistle, mother,
For I want to go to sleep."
"Whistle, daughter, whistle,
And you shall have a man—
"I never whistled, Mother,
But I guess I can!"
Now, the "wolves" do the whistling.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

THE BEST WAY

The world is a difficult world indeed. And the people are hard to suit. And the man who plays on the violin is a bore to the man with a flute. And I myself have often thought: How very much better 'twould be if every one of the folks that I know would only agree with me. But since they will not, the very best way to make the world look bright is never to mind what any one thinks. But to do what You think is right! —Author Unknown.

NEW HISTORY OF MAINE

A new history of Maine, the compilation of which will begin immediately, and require two years for its completion, is the important task which has been assigned to Richard A. Hebert editorial manager of the Maine Publicity Bureau.

And let us say at the start that the work has fallen into capable hands, particularly with Guy P. Butler, executive manager of the Bureau consenting to collaborate on the administrative phases of the project.

A tentative title, "Modern Maine—Its Historic Background and People", has been selected for the work. Besides factual and descriptive aspects, the several volume project will include family and personal material comprising a cross-section of Maine's active leadership in all fields of endeavor. The new work is planned as a narrative and topical history of the Pine Tree State, with especial emphasis on developments of the past 25 years and descriptive material on Maine as it exists today.

Maine's record in World War II will be treated extensively. Mr. Hebert was formerly instructor of history and civics at Cheverus High School, Portland, and was for 15 years a member of the editorial staff of the Press Herald. For several years he has been editor of the various Publicity Bureau publications, including the quarterly magazine, The Pine Cone.

ROCKLAND'S TRAFFIC PROBLEM

It can scarcely be called "much ado about nothing," but there's a good deal about our troublesome traffic problem which savors of the personal angle. Those who would bring about certain reforms can scarcely be credited with any other desire than the city's good. If the present method of enforcement is losing to us any of our much desired neighborhood trade, that's to be sincerely regretted, but when our forefathers laid out our streets on the horse and buggy plan they certainly could not foresee that one day the majority of the residents would be owning motor cars, and that street traffic would be reinforced by hundreds of other cars from the suburban towns. It all narrows down to the conclusion that something's got to be done about Main street congestion. And the four-letter word which applies to that situation is "what?"

FEMININE AGES REVEALED

The National Capitol would seem to have problems enough on its hands without wasting time prying into the ages of the feminine members of Congress. But that's what some busybodies have been doing, and it is at last made known to the world that Representative Margaret Chase Smith is 48. A person at Dr. Osler who advocated the chloroforming of a woman after reaching the age of 40, but we are quite sure he would revise that publicity-seeking opinion after seeing Mrs. Smith, who has the appearance of a woman 10 years younger, and the admitted wisdom of a woman 10 years older. Age is a relative matter and should be a private matter if the person so wishes.

FROM AN UNEXPECTED SOURCE

New Dealers who are opposed to the Republican plan of slicing a big chunk off the income tax were dismayed last week when two former Undersecretaries of the Treasury, who served under President Roosevelt, urged the House Ways and Means Committee to go ahead with its 20 percent reduction plan. Roosevelt Magill told the committee that tax relief is necessary to "keep the American system functioning" by renewing incentive for business ventures. John W. Hanes said that "we can continue to disregard the interest of the taxpayer only with the greatest peril," as he supported the cut estimated to benefit taxpayers by $3,500,000,000.

BOND SALES GOING STRONG

The year 1947 has started out in very gratifying style from the standpoint of U. S. Savings Bonds sales in the State of Maine—102 percent ahead of the returns for the corresponding months last year. The total for January and February, according to Harvey M. Pickett, State Director for Maine, was $7,276,165. In addition to this fine showing Mr. Pickett notes that redemptions have declined considerably.

SEA AND SHORE WARDENS

Sea and Shore Fisheries Commissioner Richard E. Reed is asking the Legislature for a better retirement plan for his wardens, and also for funds to bring their pay more into line with that of the other State Law Enforcement Agencies. At present, State Police Prison Guards and Fish and Game Wardens have their Civil Service set-up with a 25-year retirement plan regardless of age. The Sea and Shore Wardens' retirement age is 65, regardless of years served. Their range of pay is also lower than that of the other agencies. It would seem in fact that the Sea and Shore Wardens' pay and prospects should be brought more in line with the other State Law Enforcement Agencies. Theirs are the longest hours per week subject to duty; their work is strenuous and often hazardous, involving long vigils, sound judgment, a wide use of discretion. As watchers of an extended and rugged coast, they are guardians of Maine's $50,000,000 fishing industry.

Their duties are varied. Not only do they watch for infractions of the lobster law, checking licenses, cars and gear-markings; but they must check sea-moss licenses, worm licenses, licenses of crab-fishermen and ground fishermen. They must keep draggers out of closed areas, and inspect the activities of clam flats. Nothing that threatens the prosperity of the Maine fisheries is outside the province of these wardens; and in addition, on their routine patrols, they are a kind of goodwill ambassadors to the summer people, inspecting their shut-up cottages in winter on outlying islands, and reporting damage of any kind.

Certainly the pay set for these wardens should be sufficient to attract and hold loyal and efficient and resourceful men.

Notable Scout Event

With All of Rockland's Girl Scouts Participating — Stuart Burgess Lights Cake

The Universalist vestry was the scene of a happy gathering Wednesday night when all of the Girl Scouts of Rockland joined in celebrating the 35th anniversary of Scouting in the United States. With International Friendship as the theme each troop contributed its bit to a varied and interesting program which was very well received by the many parents and friends present.

The ceremonies opened with a march by Louise Allen, Patricia Bisbee, Gloria Bolin, Ann Blood, Alice Crie, Sylvia Davis, Jeannine Leach, Lucie Lewis, Beverly Manning, Faith Melvin, Christine Roberts, Estelle Seward, Amanda Tootill, Ruth Tootill, Dorothy Wotton and Diane Merrill. These representatives, Mrs. Ruth Ellingwood, Miss Lucy Rhodes, Mrs. Thelma Stanley, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hart were presented carnations by Miss Sandra Gipson. Miss Rhodes spoke of the work which was done here with the Girl Scouts so many years ago and told of the loyal workers who helped to start this movement in Rockland.

Nipped In The Bud

Owl's Head Man's Cock and Bull Story All a Lie, He States

One of the many rumors of dishonesty on the part of Rockland police officers was nipped in the bud, Saturday night when the originator of one signed a confession that the entire matter was a lie without any foundation. Police became aware of this special story the latter part of the week when a 21-year old Owl's Head man approached a patrolman at the corner of Main and Park streets and told of being arrested by Captain Breen and fined $5 for operating a car with one side of the hood off. He claimed that Breen had stopped him on North Main street Thursday and informed him of the law and had imposed and collected a fine of $5 and had at the same time taken his companion to the other side of the car and apparently fined him, too, as he was replacing his pocket-book when he returned to the car.

Upon completion of the two alleged transactions, he said that Breen allowed them to go. He asked the patrolman if he should ask the Chief if there was a law against driving with the hood off his car. He was advised to go to the station at once and make a full report. He failed to appear at the station and the patrolman made a full report of the incident to the Chief.

The story was heard elsewhere the next day and was increasing with repetition and the information came that it had been told in a local restaurant with no less than 10 persons present at the time.

Saturday Chief Lillenthal found the man in a roller skating rink and took him to the station for questioning. He repeated the story much the same as he had told it to the patrolman and the group in the restaurant—then admitted it was a lie; a lie which he had thought up for no reason at all and had told to the patrolman and the group. He stated that he owned no car—was not driving a car on that date—was not in the area of North Main street where he had claimed the incident took place—that his companion had no car—that he was with no one else—that he had no grievance against Breen or the police force in general.

Due to his inability to read, either through lack of education or bad eyesight, or both—he claims to have completed the Seventh grade in the Owl's Head schools. His statement was typed as he had given it to Chief Lillenthal who took it down in longhand. Upon completion of the reading before a notary public, he was asked if that was the true story as he wanted it recorded and he agreed and signed it and it was notarized.

No action was taken against him by police and he was allowed to return to his home at 11 p. m. Also in his statement, the man admitted that he had encountered Breen after he had been told to come to the station and had offered Griffith, the leaders; Mrs. Phyllis Leach and Mrs. Dorothy Childs. The troop committee members and Mrs. Marian Miller and Mrs. Earle Perry the Girl Scout Council. Nancy Griffith was carefully placed a huge candle on the center of the completed cake and as the Brownies made a birthday wish the candle was lighted by Stuart C. Burgess, president of the Kiwanis Club, sponsors of scouting in Rockland. The singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the entire assembly brought to a close a program which was indeed a credit to the girls and their leaders.

Mrs. Elida Barstow and Mrs. Barbara Griffith were co-chairmen of the celebration and their committee consisted of Mrs. Lena Whitehill, Mrs. Arlene Bisbee, Mrs. Lina Mountfort, Miss Katherine Bowden, Mrs. Bernice Jackson, Mrs. Athleen Pease, Mrs. Alice Robbins, Mrs. Adelle Ross, Mrs. Elizabeth Post, Mrs. Charlotte Gordon, Mrs. Betty Rogers, Mrs. Katharine Harriman, Mrs. William Talbot and Mrs. Mildred Brannan.

The Scouts and their leaders wish to thank Dr. Lowe for the use of the church vestry, Mr. Blaisdell for arranging for the typing of the programs, Mr. Grant and the boys of the High School who helped to construct the cake and Burpee Furniture Co., for the step-stool which was used in the cake ceremony. The lovely Spring flowers which were the gift of Mrs. Ruth Ellingwood were later sent to Miss Pearl Borgerson, one of the council's most loyal workers, who was unable to be present because of illness.

On Dean's List

Ralph Staples and Arthur Lillenthal, Brunswick Campus Students

Two students at the Brunswick Campus of the University of Maine from the Rockland area have been named to the Dean's List of honor students for the Fall semester.

A total of 142 students at the Brunswick Campus at the University of Maine was named to the Dean's list, with five students achieving all A grades.

Those from this area named to the Dean's list were: Ralph E. Staples, Rockport, and Arthur G. Lillenthal, South Thomaston. Staples is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Staples, and is a graduate of Rockport High School. He is a student in the College of Arts and Sciences. Lillenthal, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lillenthal, is a student in the College of Technology. He graduated from the John Adams High School, New York.

The Sea Scouts

The science of navigation was the theme of Wednesday's Sea Scout meeting. All navigation exams were covered — Ordinary, Able and Quartermaster. The Semaphore exams were finished during the meeting with all members passing. The Able Semaphore exam definitely states that the crewman must send and receive 30 letters per minute.

Plans are being made for a majority of crewmen to attend Camp Hinds Sea Scout Section this coming Summer. Those who attended last year pushed ahead at a rapid rate on their test work, and are most enthusiastic about attending again this year. The camp is reserved for Sea Scouts only during their term. The camp is in charge of Commodore Lewis Johnson of Augusta, who commended the Red Jacket men on being the most cooperative at camp.

Donald Joseph was voted into the Ship during the business meeting. Visitors were William L. Linn, Edwin Charles, Edwin Hustis, Edgar Kent, Charles Shadle, and Raymond Pendleton.

Date for the trip to Gardiner has been set for March 28.

Breen a sum of money to drop investigation of the story which he had been circulating about him.

A second story started Saturday, which resulted in charges being brought against Patrolman Kenneth Jacobson for discourtesy to a 19-year-old girl clerk of a Main street store.

The owner of the store informed Chief Lillenthal that a patrolman had been reported to him as having been discourteous to one of his clerks who was standing in front of the Bell Shops—not the store where she is employed—between 4:45 and 5 p. m. The information resulted in the girl being asked to make a formal complaint, which she did so at 9 a. m. Monday in the Chief's office in the presence of a stenographer who typed the statement which she signed.

She related that Patrolman Jacobson had approached her as she stood in front of the Bell Shops talking with a friend and said "Hey there, you will have to move on, you are blocking traffic." As the officer turned back again, she stated that he said, "you heard me."

The owner of the store and an attorney asked the department to drop the matter more than once on Saturday night and Monday. Lillenthal stated that had any man on his force committed such an act he intended to suspend him until all charges were cleared and refused to do as requested.

Last Monday afternoon, the girl appeared in the office of the City Manager and withdrew the charges in writing, stating that she had made an error in judgment.

The charges were unfounded, according to the department, as the officer charged with the discourtesy was in company of the Chief from 4:15 until 5:20 p. m. in the cruiser car on an investigation and was seen by several citizens at the time the girl claimed Jacobson committed the discourtesy act.

Another rumor was traced down during Monday where a Main street employee had told, or retold, of a discourteous act by another patrolman. Investigation revealed that the act took place several months ago and on the first night which the man served on the force. When interviewed, the man admitted telling of the incident in which a person who was standing with his foot on the window ledge of a store was told to move on rather brusquely. The man stated, however, that that same officer was now an excellent patrolman.

Lo, the Poor Indian

Mic-Mac Thomas Loses Decision To Substitute—Other Bouts

Isaac Thomas, Mic Mac Indian from Oldtown, Friday night lost the decision to Ray Daust of Montreal in an eight-round bout. Thomas lacked the speed he showed in his previous appearance but gave the cash customers a scrap for their money though he was obviously a tired Redskin after the third round.

Daust, sprung by the manager of Leo Methot at the last minute as substitute, proved to be as capable a man of his class as had appeared in the building since the fights started this Winter.

Blaine Macomber of Guilford, took a close decision from Sailer McKinnon of Berlin, N. H. in the semi-final scrap.

An extra bout brought together Les Murray and Art Wooster of Rockland. Murrys clowning earned him a couple of smart clips over the right eye and a TKO which went to Wooster.

Jim Elliott and Tippy Larson of Tenants Harbor furnished entertainment for four rounds. Elliott taking the decision after an exhibition which more closely resembled a boxing match than was originally billed.

Charlie Wooster kayced Clarence Paradise of Brunswick in the first round after he had knocked him down for a nine count previously.

The lead off bout lasted 30 seconds and saw Ray Winner flatten Dickey Egan in just that time with a left hook that kept him on the mat for one minute and 40 seconds before his handlers got him in motion for his corner.

Rev. C. Wendell Wilson of the Littlefield Memorial Church, gave a thought provoking address, entitled "Biblical Numerics, a Proof of the Inspiration of the Word of God." He held his audience at rapt attention as he cited case after case where numbers made it clear that the original wording of the books of the Bible proved that it was inspired by God.

Joseph W. Robinson offered prayer preceding the supper and the dismissal prayer was by Rev. J. Charles MacDonald, minister of the church.

Mr. Cassens, when introduced, was given an ovation by those assembled. Other guests of the class were Mrs. C. Wendell Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lord, Frank A. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Moore, Mrs. Cassens, who is teacher of the Kailo-h class and Rev. and Mrs. J. Charles MacDonald.

Donald L. Karl, president of the class, was master of ceremonies. Other officers of the class are Frank B. Rokes, vice president; Edmund A. Wotton, treasurer; Raphael S. Sherman, secretary; and Leslie A. Packard, assistant teacher. The class, the motto of which is "Men For Christ," meets, for an hour, at noon each Sunday of the year.

Funds for the building were raised by public subscription in 1938-39 with Van-Baalen Heilbrun occupying the building in June of that year on a rental basis which continues to this time.

RECENT TOWN MEETINGS

ROCKPORT
 Emil Erickson and Maynard Craffam Win Selectman Contests

Arthur K. Walker, veteran first selectman of Rockport, resumed his post, unopposed, at the town meeting yesterday. His running mates, however, fought it out with ballots. Emil Erickson, running for second selectman, with 111 votes, defeating J. J. Dunbar whose count was 68; for third selectman, the victor was Maynard Craffam who received 136 votes as against Bert Gregory with 67.

Charles Cavanaugh presided as moderator. Other officers were elected with no opposition: Clerk, E. A. Champney; treasurer and tax collector, Walter E. Carroll.

Salaries of the second and third selectmen were increased from $150 to $200, and the rate of pay for the tax collector was upped to 1 1/4 cents.

In a long warrant of 36 articles, much interest centered in the question of an agreement with the City of Rockland in regard to fires. By the voters' acceptance of this, any selectman, fire chief, fire warden or other reputable citizen, after due deliberation and consideration of the situation, may now call the Rockland Fire Department.

The selectmen are authorized to take some means to have the citizens informed as to the fact that they should not call Rockland for small fires or chimney fires.

To provide for supervised recreation for the young people of the town, the sum of $2500 was raised, the Town Hall to be the site of such program. It was also voted that the Town Hall be furnished free for all school purposes with heat and light, $300 to pay for this expenditure.

Among the improvements will be: Drainage of the street water at Commercial street, and the street and cesspool water at Warren street. The change will remove the bad odor arising near the post office. Proposed sidewalks for School street, Russell avenue and Spruce street received no action (passed over) but repairs will be made to the sidewalk on High street from Pascal avenue to the residence of Benjamin Wooster.

Limerock street will be tarred to the junction of Huse street, and the hill on Annis Lane, near the residence of Cecil Annis, will be repaired and tarred.

Study of the street light situation resulted in a vote to remove three lights from No. 1 Highway and replace them thus: One on High street, Rockport; one on Route 17 in West Rockport; and one on Route 17 in West Rockport.

A hydrant will be placed on Camden street near Grove street. The sum of $500 was voted for fire hose.

A committee of five was appointed to study the advisability of zoning, their duties to be to decide what kind, when and where new business or residences shall be located in the town; thus: One on High street, Rockport; one on Route 17 in West Rockport; and one on Route 17 in West Rockport.

Under the appropriations of $79,000 the major sums will be: Schools, $30,060; road and bridge work, $7000; breaking roads, $3500; State and State Aid highways, $1900; salaries, $3300; support of poor, $3500; municipal water, $4000; street lighting, $1300; Fire Department, $5000; care of cemeteries, $1000; resurfacing tarred roads, $5000.

The town voted to enter into a contract with the Central Maine Power Company for a term of 10 years, whereby, in consideration of the furnishing of street lighting service to the town during the

WALDOBORO

Committee of Seven Appointed to Consider Town Manager Form

In a somewhat confused and lengthy session Waldoboro voters acted upon 52 warrant articles at its town meeting. Dr. G. H. Coombs, octogenarian, served as moderator. Considering first, properties, their taxation and general disposition, May 15 was fixed as the date when taxes shall be committed to the collector and February the time when settlement shall be made.

Former owners who have lost title to their property must be given an opportunity to redeem it by paying the accumulated taxes and costs; that which in the opinion of the selectmen best serves the interest of the town, need not be sold; any other piece of property on which a bid has been obtained, must be advertised in at least two consecutive issues of the press and then sold to the person submitting the highest bid.

If the highest bid is not equal to the amount of accumulated taxes and cost, the selectmen shall be permitted to reserve the right to reject bids.

Recommendations of the budget committee were accepted on all routine expenses, and additional appropriations were made to cover, among other improvements, the purchase of a new fire truck at a cost of $3475.01; repairing of the Gross Neck road ($2000); preserving the piece of road from the railroad crossing on Depot street to Edgar Day's residence by cleaning out the ditches and cutting away the sods on the shoulder of the road ($300).

Other road construction and repairs include graveling of the Back Cove road; maintenance of the town road leading from State Road No. 220 to the farm of O. Mandahl; Levensaler Hill to be cut down by the use of a power shovel; shaping and graveling Castner's Road from Lloyell Jackson's to Helard Weaver's Corner; graveling road from Benjamin French's Corner to the residence of Ralph Engley; and repairing and resurfacing the road from Schwartz's Turn in West Waldoboro toward Duckpuddle Brook; graveling of the Kaler road leading from the residence of Earl I. Miller to the residence of Raymond Simmons.

Continuing to stress highway improvements, the citizens went on to vote $100 to repair the road leading from Four Corners off Rural Route No. near Town Farm to the Hoffes Farm; repair of Poy's Corridor road starting at LeRoy Dyer's $300; and improvements to road from Orff's Corner toward the Jefferson Town Line; repair of Old County road and bridges from Gilmore Creamer place to Nobleboro town line; repair, gravel and make ditches on the road leading from the mail route and extending to the farm of John Miller; lay out town way from Route 32 to the residence of Amber Chilling.

Placing a check rein on purchases, and expenditures of all kinds, town officers are forbidden to contract for or authorize payment of any amounts which will cause an overdraft. If an emergency arises which requires additional appropriation, the selectmen shall call a special town meeting for that purpose.

Officers are also directed to secure competitive bids on all supplies or equipment which cost in excess of $75 except for material used in highway maintenance.

Waldoboro is considering the feasibility of a Town Manager form of government and has appointed a committee of seven to investigate this possibility, report of their finding to be made at a town meeting.

Results of elections were not available until late afternoon. Selectmen are: Fred Burns, Alton Winchenbach and Glen Creamer.

Lots Of Bowling

Cascade Alleys Listen To "The Blues" and Hear Red Man's Warwhoops

Those melancholy babies, the Skippers, continued singing The Blues this week as they again bowed to the Ganders bowling team, not because the Ganders did anything big or spectacular, but because the Skippers could not get out of the rut and do a little better than average.

Doc Mills came roaring out of the wilds of Dogtown loaded for bear, and he was the big shot of the Ganders that blew up the Skippers. Adams and Mitchell, both way below normal, were benched for a week from the Skippers, while McDonald and Mr. X were eliminated for the next week from the Ganders.

After the manner of the radio and dime magazine thrillers we cannot allow you to know at once who Mr. X is. In fact he is the man one would least expect to be a low score bowler and also one who had publicly stated that he never expected to be bumped off for a week, and if he did it would be over his dead body.

But bowling you never can tell, and finally fate caught up with the old Goose, Yip, Mr. X is the Goose, and the fact that he was one of the low men on his team caused proprietor O. V. Drew to put a great big chalk mark on the stove pipe, for it is the first time this year the Goose has had to bow out. But apparently he is not downhearted, for he has teamed up with Doc Mills to take on the Lyford-White team next Thursday night in another five string doubles match. Perhaps the Goose figures that he will catch those guys on the rebound.

It is being said on the QT however that he wore the soles of a new pair of shoes down to the thickness of a sheet of paper by pacing up and down the alley the night he was eliminated, and that he actually had three cigarettes lit and going at one time. Nervous? Oh, no! Just demonstrating that in numbers there is strength.

Ganders-McDonald 244, Sanborn 279, Mills 283, Shields 265, Goose 254, total 1326.

It's beginning to be a habit with the Elefens now, this matter of trimming the Sevens, for last Thursday they did the trick the second time and claim that it will happen again from now on. The match was full of upsets for as usual in bowling the thing that one expects is not the same thing that comes to pass.

Baish Dexter who sang with the singers last week lost his voice completely and had to go into retirement for a week due to a low of 237. Along with him on his team went Clint Smith, while Holmstrom and Fred Swanson will warm the bench for the Elefens.

But "Big Gus" Swanson achieved a lifetime ambition when he emerged as top man in this match. Not by a very big score, but it was big enough to be the best that was good enough for Gus. He also claims that this little event is a vindication of the southpaw style of bowling, and with this demonstration of its superiority, there is now no limit to what may be expected of southpaws.

Bruce Grindle says "Amen." "Ringer" Poole was again playing with the Elefens, but as long as his scores are no larger than those he has been turning in of late, there will be no objection raised. At least not from the opposition. Rumors have been bruited about to the effect that a big turkey supper is cooking, for all members of the Big 4 bowling teams but so far all plans seem to be under the red thatch of Capt. Grimes, and he isn't telling everything he knows. If we smell anything like a turkey cooking or hear anything like a turkey talking, we will report same in the next issue.

Elefens-Winslow 252, G. Swanson 283, F. Swanson 251, Holmstrom 246, Poole 281, total 1319.

that they were looking for action and would take on any team of men not attached to any teams bowling regularly. Not hearing anything from this they posted another challenge taking in a little more territory, in which they barred no one and agreed to take on any team in town. After Wednesday night's match Captain Pay Dyer ruefully admitted that perhaps he had taken in a little too much territory on his last challenge, for his team was badly scalped and almost burned at the stake in their first encounter with the Palefaces.

Perhaps the Indians were not well practiced in the art of bowling. But they say an Indian never forgets an injury so the Red Men retire to their teepees, sharpen up their tomahawks and their scalping knives, and prepare to rally forth next week to scalp the Palefaces or die in the attempt.

Interviewed in his teepee, as he sat wrapped in a blanket and smoking his pipe Big Chief Dyer said, "Heap big monkey business. We no keachum many pins. Paleface shootum ball like squaw. Indian shootum ball like squaw. Mebbe next time we ketchum heap big let. Mebbe keep wampum in belt. Mebbe."

Going home by telephone
made easier year by year

CALLING up family or friends by long distance today is almost as simple and easy a matter as telephoning someone in your own neighborhood.

What's made possible the year by year improvement you experience in long distance calling? Constant telephone research in Bell Laboratories, new and improved equipment turned out at Western Electric, better operating methods, the high standards of public service held by telephone people... all have contributed.

Progress is continuing, too. New devices permit the handling of more calls simultaneously on one circuit. Nation-wide operator dialing is on the way. Radio beams now carry long distance messages across water, and will soon supplement the busy wire circuits between Boston and New York.

In this year of the Centennial of Alexander Graham Bell, we're doing our utmost to live up to the oldest tradition in the telephone business—sparing no effort to make telephone service always better tomorrow than it is today.

RESIGNS FROM BOARD OF VISITORS

The Speaker of the House, Hon. Sam Rayburn, two years ago, appointed Representative Margaret Chase Smith to the Board of Visitors to the United States Naval Academy. The duty of this Board is to visit the Academy, make a tour of inspection and with other visitors, discuss ways of improvement, if any, and to make recommendations on things you would do if you could. There is usually a big ball, reception and review of the midshipmen and the visit lasts two days.

In January of this year, Mrs. Smith was appointed again to this Board by Speaker Martin. It is an honor to receive this appointment but Mrs. Smith resigned from the Board, feeling that other Members should have the same privilege that she has had.

GRAMMAR BASKETBALL

In the Western Maine Grammar School tourney at Bath Friday night Central Grammar School of Bath knocked Rockland Junior High School out of the tournament with a 30-20 score in a fast well played game that saw Central take the lead in the first period 7-1.

Rockland began to make a comeback in the second period but couldn't close the entire gap as they trailed going into the third period 15-7. Worden, Henriksen and Pomerleau led the Central team to victory as Central held a seven-point lead at third quarter's end and emerged victorious, 30-20.

Johnson captured the scoring honors for Rockland with seven points. Coach Flint used his entire squad of 10 men in over-driving Rockland as they held their floor staff down to six men for the game in their attempts to wear down the ever-pushing Central squad.

Favors Higher Pay

Camden, March 11.

It is noticed that the State Police have introduced legislation seeking a raise of salary for their troopers, which in all probability they deserve. Having always been interested in Inland Game wardens as well as Sea and Shore I feel these two law enforcing departments also deserve a raise in order they might meet the existing high cost of living.

The Sea and Shore Fisheries wardens should be given recognition at least in placing them on the same wage level as the other two departments which at present they are the lowest paid of the three. According to press reports the Commissioner of Fisheries is striving to accomplish this for his men, that which they are surely entitled. I myself was astonished in checking the State salary book at the low unreasonable pay these wardens are paid by the State.

Word From Germany

Where Rockland Soldier Has Followed R. H. S. Basketball Career

[Extracts from letter written by T-5 Harlan Metcalf to his mother.]

Munchberg, Germany, Feb. 27.

Well my time is getting shorter all the time. I have about three months then I will be leaving for the States. It's wonderful, isn't it?

The First Sergeant and the Captain and all my friends have been after me all this week to re-enlist. There is no one in the battery who can type very well and nobody knows the job like I do. I know this battery better than anyone else. I know just where everything is and I know when the reports go in and I always have my work done on time and that gives me a lot of free time.

There will be days when I just sit here at my desk and read books all day with nothing to do for hours.

Today is one of those days I have sent in just one report, that is all that I have done all day. It gives people the impression that I don't do anything, but the people that know, really know that I am on the ball all the time. That is now I earned my rating and how I will be making sergeant before long. I hope that I can come home as a Sergeant.

You can put my name in the papers and tell the whole town that Cpl. Metcalf visited the war all times tribunal at Nuremberg with all the Nazis were sentenced to death.

We'll be quite busy here now. We just took over a new club here in town and it really is a swell place. Nice bandstand and all that and the band goes with it. It was used before by another Army outfit but they have moved from town so we took it over. Well Mom write all you can and send those sport pictures to me and tell me all about the basketball team of ours. I hope that they do good in the playoffs. They should be invited this year with the great record that they have got.

T-5 Harlan Metcalf.

State Legislature

Opponents of legislation to close Maine's lobster rearing station at Boothbay Harbor estimated Thursday that only 1-10th of 1 percent of lobster eggs hatched naturally in the sea lived to maturity.

Proponents told the Legislative Sea and Shore Fisheries Committee that lobsters would "reproduce better" naturally than in a hatchery. They recommended that the rearing station, operated co-operatively by the State and Federal Governments, be closed and the money saved be used to buy egg lobsters for liberation.

Lobsters hatched in the rearing station are released when they reach the fourth station—the point when they assume the shape of lobsters.

Replying to contentions by proponents that the supply of lobsters was decreasing despite activities of the rearing station, opponents said lobsters appeared in cycles and the part of the decrease could be attributed to the tremendous increase in the number of fishermen in recent years.

A bill to remove restrictions on digging and shipping of shellfish in Knox, Waldo, Washington and Hancock Counties from May 15 to Oct. 1 was opposed by Senator Malcolm P. Noyes of Franklin and Representative Cleveland Sleeper, Jr., who said many residents of the counties wanted the restrictions "for conservation reasons."

Proponents said it was unfair to deprive the four counties of privileges enjoyed by Western Maine coastal areas.

Several professional claim diggers and a representative of the P. H. Snow Canning Co. of Scarborough, opposed a bill permitting holders of claim diggers to use half of their total acreage for marine farming.

Winfield Smith of Brunswick, favoring the bill, said it would benefit claim conservation. Richard E. Reed, State Sea and Shore Fisheries Commissioner, favored the measure with reservations, recommending amendment to make certain that deed holders actually would "farm" the flats and not just close them to clamming.

A Remarkable Woman

Mrs. Ellen Conant 94 Thursday—She Has Seen Four Major Wars

Mrs. Ellen Layette Conant, who resides at the home of her son, Ralph P. Conant, Camden street, will observe her 94th birthday March 27.

Born in Hope (1853) daughter of Eben and Julia (Hewett) Philbrick, Mrs. Conant is the last of six-five brothers and one sister.

Her late husband was Francis P. Conant of Appleton. They had three children: Ralph P. Conant of Rockland, I. Merrill Conant of Rockland, who died 32 years ago and Mrs. Jethro Pease, now living in Hope.

Mrs. Conant has ten grandchildren: Earle R. Conant of Oakland; Mrs. Jessie L. Ulmer of Rockland; Mrs. Ruth Pickett of Whitman, Mass.; Roger P. Conant, now attending Wheaton College, Illinois; James M. Pease, Rockland; Mrs. Olive E. Chapin, Camden; Mrs. Marion L. Bridges, Rockport; Nathan R. Pease, Hope; W. Ward Pease, Ash Point and Mrs. Caroline Byers of Appleton. There are 18 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Conant's birthday is coincident with that of her great-grandson, Austin R. Ulmer, of this city. Mr. Ulmer has recently finished 16 months' service in the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Conant attributes her excellent memory to the fact that she has always had great interest in world affairs. This can be read by understood. She is one of the few who has been privileged to follow the annals of history from the Pony Express period to the present day developments of travel. Numerous developments have occurred through these years, and Mrs. Conant recalls them all with great alertness of mind.

The year of her birth showed only 31 States already admitted to the Union. Mrs. Conant has lived under the control of 20 United States Presidents. The Civil War left a vivid picture in her mind, as she was eight years old when its fury broke. This was followed by the abolition of slavery and assassination of President Lincoln.

When a girl in her teens, Mrs. Conant offered her services as a practical nurse. This sometimes called her to various communities throughout the State. Her willingness to bear innumerable inconveniences in order to be of assistance to the infirmed, led her to take the practice up professionally during the last 21 years of her nursing career.

Despite scanty medical knowledge and living conditions of that day, time and effort brought recognition of anesthetics, vaccines, and the X-ray. Pasteur was one of the leading French bacteriologists of this time. Other notable personages included Edison and Bell, who were working consecutively on the incandescent lamp and the telephone during the later 1870s.

Following the death of her husband in 1899, Mrs. Conant moved to Rockland.

Advancing years brought the Spanish-American War. During this period, Mrs. Conant, accompanied by friends, made visits to the Na-

Third "Book Review"

A Treat In Store For Poetry Lovers At The Public Library

A special treat is in store for poetry lovers, Thursday night, March 20, at 7.30, at the Rockland Public Library when Mrs. Carl Moran will present an entire program reviewing the newest and best in poetry.

This is the third so-called "book review" evening sponsored by the Rockland Library Advisory Board and presented to the public this Winter. The first two such evenings were devoted to current fiction and non-fiction. This coming evening devoted entirely to poetry should be a definite change.

Mrs. Moran has selected the following books for her program: "The Country Year," by Mark Van Doren.

"Treasury of Laughter," compiled by Louis Untermeyer.

"This Is My Beloved," by Walter Benton.

"The Poetry Society" of America Anthology.

"A Little Treasury of Modern Poetry," by Oscar Williams.

Following Mrs. Moran's program Miss Ruth Rogers will briefly summarize books recently received at the library.

The Ten O'clock Club met with Mrs. Lena Naum, South Main street, Wednesday night. Mrs. Nancy Proctor was honor guest, the occasion being her birthday. Mrs. Proctor received many lovely gifts, including an attractively decorated cake, made by the hostess. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Gertrude Messer and George Sleeper, whose birthdays fall close together, were recently recipients of a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sleeper.

Friends and relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brooks of Thomaston, Miss Betty Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James Aylward, Dr. and Mrs. Dana Newman, Dr. Walter D. Hall, Jacqueline Messer and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Richardson.

ional Capitol in Washington and Arlington Cemetery. On the return trip they stopped over in New York to see the then recently unveiled Statue of Liberty.

In years to come, work was begun on the Panama Canal by "Teddy" Roosevelt and aviation advances by the famed Wright brothers. Then another crisis arose with the sinking of the Lusitania—World War Number one. Greater progress in aviation, war machinery and synthetic material productions led in turn to World War Number Two, and the present day cyclical.

These, like innumerable others, are transformations which have been observed by Mrs. Conant in but a few short years short of a century. To date she has seen the outcome of four major wars. Is it any wonder that she fears the thought of another?

Those that know "Gram" will agree that she is a remarkably cheerful person and interesting conversationalist. Her first-floor room is situated so that she may look out over Rockland harbor. She has nearly perfect eyesight and enjoys reading. Due to lameness in her hands and legs she has not been able to get around the house, or accomplish as much correspondence and sewing as she has in earlier years. She is a charter and life member of Golden Rod Rebekah Lodge of Appleton, a past noble grand and a past district grand.

Surprised The Snows

Large Party In Honor Of Silver Wedding—Notables Present

About 250 persons from Middletown and surrounding communities attended a surprise party at the American Legion home Saturday night in honor of former Governor and Mrs. Wilbert Snow, who recently observed their 25th wedding anniversary.

Probate Judge Leonard O. Ryan, acting for friends and those attending the affair, presented the couple with a set of sterling silver for 12, a set of dishes, glassware and other gifts.

Prof. Snow, in a brief acceptance speech, expressed his and Mrs. Snow's thanks for the gifts and for the surprise. Their entire married life has been spent in Middletown. Mr. Snow said as he informed the gathering that he "stood up" his wife for 24 hours at the altar. He explained that they were scheduled to be married on Feb. 22 but the then Wesleyan president told him that the school always was in session on Washington's Birthday, so he would have to wait until Feb. 23 to be married.

Mrs. Walter A. Blau, Jr., was chairman of the committee which planned the celebration assisted by Mrs. J. O. Brown, Mrs. Philip Brown, Mayor Emilio Q. Daddario, Acting Mayor Leo Zieller, Florio DeTorro, Peter Grassi, Mrs. George Hennigan, Mrs. George E. Hall, Mrs. V. T. ## The Rotary Club

Entertains Basketball Stars and Hears Atomic Bomb Student

Rotary was host to the R.H.S. basketball team at Friday's meeting. The young athletes were, Meredith Shapiro, Donald Kelsey, Donald Marsh, Donald McLellan, Royce Lunt, Oliver Holden, Robert Teel, Earl Bartlett, Wesley Martin, Ronald Thurston, Jimmie Connellan.

Joe Blaisdell praised the fine work of the coach, Ken MacDougal, (also present) and said that while pleased with the prowess of the boys, he was much more pleased with the clean record of sportsmanship that marked all of their games. Don McLellan and Don Kelsey co-captains of the team are the Club's guests for the current month. President Rach Cowan in a neat welcoming speech complimented the boys and their coach upon a season of good, clean, hard hitting sport.

John C. Stevens and James C. Stevens, Portland, and Asbury Pignman, Belfast, were the visiting Rotarians. Guests were Ralph C. Wentworth and Curtis Payson. Ray Perry conducted the singing; Staff Congdon at the piano.

Ted Bird introduced the speaker as a lawyer by profession, but a seeker after the mysteries of the atomic bomb by preference. Jim Reed of Augusta spoke upon his hobby, the Atomic Bomb. Reed said that finding nothing to do with his time, while waiting to get out of the Navy, he had read everything that he could find written upon this subject, and had been fortunate in talking with men who had been at the first atomic bomb explosion.

Since the problem involved in the atomic bomb is American, every layman should have knowledge enough to make constructive contribution as to its use. What we perfected the scientists of other ahead of us in early inquiries and countries knew, in fact, were far tests, especially the Institute of Berlin. Clearly and interestingly, Reer outlined the research work that led to the discovery of uranium, the many component parts found when the atom was broken up, or split, the general size and shape of the bomb. The bomb exploded by concussion giving off three rays. Alpha, a blast, traveling with the speed of sound. Beta traveling with the speed of light, releasing billions of neutrons giving off volumes of heat heretofore unknown. Gamma, most lethal radiation. At the present time the only protection from these rays is a lead covering. Mr. Reed believes that the atomic energy understood and well used will be of lasting benefit to mankind.

He Likes Cribbage

And Bill Bissett, Formerly Of Vinalhaven, Is An Expert Though Blind

A card game caused more than the usual amount of interest in the House retiring room of the Legislature recently. It was all because of an unusual factor: One of the players was blind.

Legislators old and new gathered around to watch the cribbage game between Representative Ralph Sterling, of Caratunk, and William Bissett, of Portland, a member of the Cumberland County Commission. To the newcomers at the Legislature this was a strange phenomenon. To old timers, however, as well as to Representative Sterling, the occasion was a repetition of good times of a few years ago, when Commissioner Bissett was a member of the Legislature, frequently referred to as "Portland's Blind Senator."

Edgar F. Fadden, of East Hiram, did the pegging for the game between Sterling and Bissett, while W. J. Robinson, a fellow Commissioner of Bissett's, looked on from chair number four at the table. The playing cards used looked like same as usual, offhand. A more careful examination, however, disclosed that each card had Braille characters impressed upon it. It was through those characters that Bissett was "reading" his hand and playing his game. So rapidly was he running over his cards that the game progressed as rapidly as any cribbage game usually does.

A few sessions ago, Commissioner Bissett's playing would have caused less of a sensation than it did last week. At that time, it was almost a daily occurrence, since the Portland man finds a lot of enjoyment in his card playing.

Blind since he was 29 years of age, Bissett, now 66, has taken an active part in the Portland city government. In addition, he has served two terms in the Maine House, in 1927 and 1929; and three terms in the Senate, in 1931, 1933, and 1935. There are more than half a dozen members of the Legislature today who served with the blind legislator a few years back, among them Ron Sterling—LAL, in the Lewiston Journal.
